VOLUME 42

A long time ago, in a school district far, far away, a group of earthly beings gathered together and embarked on A SPACE ODDITY. This group was held together by two common goals: to pass and to have fun! This book is merely a compilation of the steps taken to achieve these goals. Buckle your seat belts, boys and girls, its going to be a bumpy ride!

CURRENT EVENTS 1988-89

During the 1988-89 school year, the nation and the world both produced several newsworthy events. The year saw the election of a new U.S. President, the return of the American astronauts to outer space, the unveiling of two new radical military fighter planes, a shocking announcement by Soviet Premier Mikhail Gorbachev, and a dramatic dogfight over Libya.

Probably the biggest story of 1988 was, of course, the election of George Bush as the 41st President of the US. Bush and his Democratic challenger, Michael Dukakis, the governor of Massachusetts, waged a bitter and often dirty campaign against each other. Both candidates chose decidedly different running mates for the election. Dukakis chose Senator Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, hoping to revive the "Boston-Austin" connection which proved successful for Senator John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson in 1960. Bush chose Dan Quayle, who immediately fell under attack from the Democrats because of his decision to join the National Guard during the Vietnam War rather than fight in Vietnam. However, Bush and Quayle survived all of the controversy and strife to roll on to one of the biggest victories in the history of presidential elections.

January 28, 1986.

Many Americans remember that date as the end of the American space program with the explosion of the space shuttle Challenger, and the deaths of all seven astronauts aboard. Many people believed that the U.S. could never recover from the sting of the Challenger disaster. However, 32 months later, in October of 1988, after nearly three years of research, development of new escape procedures, and redesigning the rubber O-rings which caused the explosion, the space shuttle Discovery roared into orbit, carrying 5 astronauts, a $100 million communications satellite to replace the one lost on Challenger, and the hopes of an entire nation.

After the thunderously successful liftoff, the astronauts deployed the communications satellite, known as TDRSS-B, into a 22,300 mile orbit around the earth. By the middle of the seven-day mission, the astronauts had settled into a routine of floating around, doing experiments, and basically enjoying themselves. Morning wake-up calls ranged from a performance of "I Feel Good" to a pre-recorded message from William Shatner, famous captain of the fictional starship Enterprise from "Star Trek." On the last day of the mission, the astronauts became serious, holding a brief memorial service for the seven astronauts who died on the Challenger, calling them "heroes of America."

American military forces saw action in the Gulf of Sidra near Libya in 1988. Two American F-14 Tomcat fighters from the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy intercepted and shot down two Libyan Mig-23 Flogger fighters. Although the Libyan ambassador claimed that the Migs were unarmed and on a reconnaissance mission, pictures obtained from the F-14s clearly showed the outlines of AA-6 air-to-air missiles underneath the wings of the Libyan Planes.

In 1983, the American military establishment received two high-technology, high-priced aircraft, one as a replacement for the aging B-52 bomber, the other with a questionable mission, but both radically advanced in their abilities, chief among which is their ability to evade detection by enemy radars, hence their names designation as "Stealth" aircraft.

One of these aircraft, the B-2 bomber, is designed as a replacement for the aging American fleet of B-52 Stratofortress bombers. It carries a bigger payload than the B-52, and, acting as a supplement to the new B-1 bomber, which is already under development and production. It will restore the bomber leg of the United States' strategic "Triad" to full strength.

Many newsworthy events occurred during 1988 and 1989. The events described here are just a few of the events which changed many lives during the course of these two years.

MOVIES

The 1988-89 school year at the theatres was filled with dynamite productions. ROGER RABBIT and OLIVER AND COMPANY were two cartoons that shouldn't have been missed. Other movies such as COCKTAIL, YOUNG GUNS and BIG were all very popular movies.

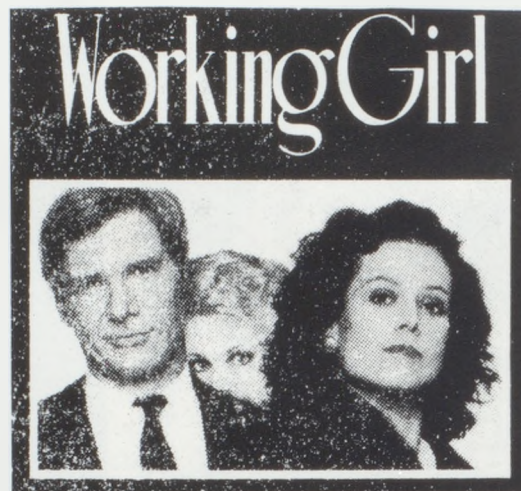

Harrison Ford acted in his last Indiana Jones movie in the series, which broke the record for first night attendance.

There were many great comedies such as FLETCH LIVES with Chevy Chase, COMING TO AMERICA, TWINS, and A FISH CALLED WANDA. These films were a joy to watch and kept audiences smiling.

THE CHOCOLATE WAR was a movie made from a well-read young adult novel by Robert Cormier, which captured well the eerie mood of the novel. PET SEMATARY was another movie made from a novel by Stephen King, and was one of the most popular suspense thrillers of the year.

WORKING GIRL, SAY ANYTHING, and BEACHES all demonstrated success, failure and determination. FIELD OF DREAMS and RAIN MAN left the biggest impression on audiences with RAIN MAN picking up academy awards in several different areas.

English: A Foreign Language at JHS

We've got one great team of English teachers this year, which consists of six talented people who have worked long and hard coaching the students at Johnston.

Miss Smith is the freshman English teacher. This is her third year here at Johnston and she's enjoyed teaching stories such as "Romeo and Juliet" and "The Diary of Anne Frank".

Mrs. Tews is another great teacher. She teaches speech, advanced speech and creative writing classes, all of which are a lot of fun and would be a shame to miss.

Mrs. Robson is new this year as well as Mrs. Harbart. Both are relieving Mrs. Partington for a year. Mrs. Robson is teaching modern literature, American literature, and Spanish II. Mrs. Harbart is teaching American literature, creative writing, reading lab, and psychology, which is her favorite.

Creative writing and modern literature are also taught by Mrs. Moermond. She's known for her many creative writing topics which students enjoy.

The teacher of advanced composition and sophomore English is Mrs. Koth. She's enjoyed by many students because of her in-class discussions and freewriting exercises. "I'd like to keep third hour class all day long," says Mrs. Koth, "especially when Heidi Patterson is our actress for the day!"

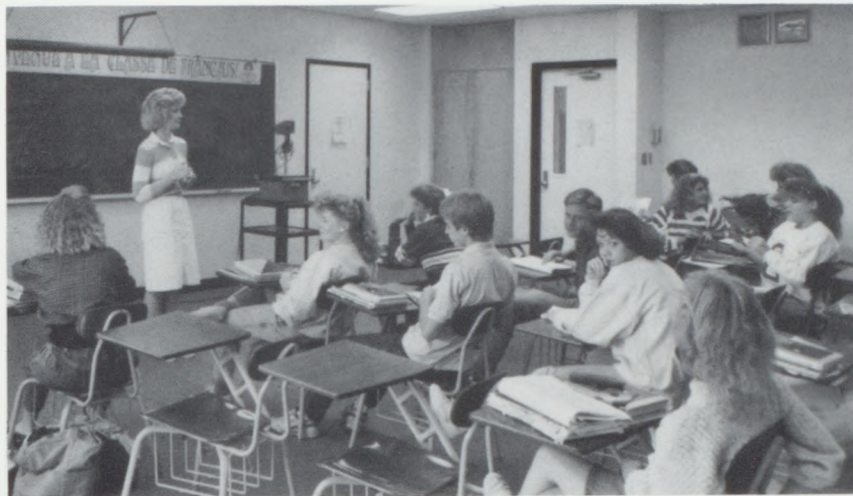

Good English teachers such as these are rare, and we're very fortunate to have the "write" here at Johnston.

French Teacher Zapped By Martians

French has become the new official language of Iowa-?!?...maybe not, but it is definitely one of the more popular courses offered here at Johnston Senior High. Mrs. Moermond is the one person in charge of the nearly one-hundred students taking the class during the 1988-1989 school year.

Mrs. Moermond uses lots of creativity in teaching her classes. This involves games of Bingo, turtles, around-the-world, and flash cards. The classes also read many short stories written in French, such as Le Petit Prince (The Little Prince), and act out short skits and dialogues.

In order to give the students a sample of French culture, Mrs. Moermond has decorated her room with several different posters and maps of France. The French classes also watch many movies and video tapes, and even prepare and sample certain french foods.

All in all, Mrs. Moermond really does do a great job of helping students to learn the French language, and have a good time doing it. We're really fortunate to have her for a teacher here at J.H.S.!

COMMUNICATION IN SPANISH

The JHS Spanish classes are taught by both Mrs. Rash and Mrs. Pierce. Mrs. Rash has been teaching at Johnston for nineteen years—fifteen here at JHS and four in Colfax, Iowa, and Washington, Alaska. She currently teaches Spanish I, II, and IV. Mrs. Rash told us that she tries to keep up to date with trends in foreign language teaching, incorporating trips to Mexico and foreign language weeks. She told us, "I really enjoy the Spanish quiz bowls, and seeing my students major or minor in Spanish."

This is Mrs. Pierce's first year at JHS. She is currently teaching Spanish II.

U.F.O. Lands In Johnston: Makes History

"Bull Run...", "Gettysburg...", "Ask not what your country can do for you...", "Houston, Tranquility...the Eagle has landed!" These are just a few of the names and phrases tossed around in the Johnston Senior High History Department.

This is Mr. Harswick's eighteenth year teaching World Studies at Johnston. He enjoys the class immensely, especially "seeing that gleam in a student's eyes or watching their faces light up with a great sense of accomplishment." When he was asked what the most enjoyable part of the course was, Mr. Harswick responded, "The simulations which are employed in World Studies; i.e., Imperialism in Africa".

"Ladies and gentlemen, as you well know..." For juniors taking Mr. Carver's U.S. History course, this was the famous statement that welcomed them to class every day. When we asked Mr. Carver how students reacted to his famous quote, he replied, "They smile and are kind to me. They don't throw anything." Mr. Carver said he enjoyed being able to work with young people and to watch them grow.

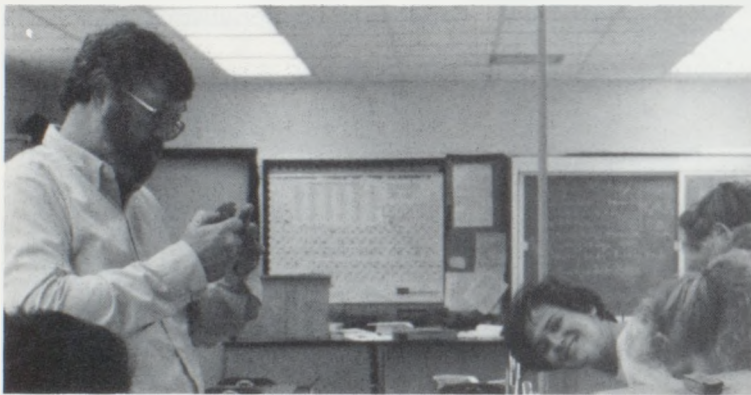

Government. We live and work with it every single day of our lives. Mr. Pitz, the government teacher here at J.H.S., helps students understand the U.S. Government. As far as the feelings of the seniors towards the course, Mr. Pitz said, "I feel that they like the relaxed atmosphere of the class, groaning at my puns, and the freedom to express their own opinions."

The Johnston History Department helps to make all of the students' lives better and more organized over the year.

JHS SCIENCE STUDENTS DISSECT MARTIANS

There is a new class called Basic Chemistry provided this year at Johnston. The science classes are doing new activities this year. The biggest change that has taken place is the kids are able to work in the labs more often than in past years. The teachers say "The students really enjoy getting more time to work in the labs."

Mr. Briggs teaches Earth Science, Mr. Mahoney teaches Biology, Advance Biology, and Basic Biology, Mrs. Scott teaches Biology, and Mr. Partington teaches Physics, Chemistry, and Basic Chemistry.

Computer Blues

Mr. Auxier, who happens to be new this year from Gowrie, teaches Computer Programming. He also coaches 9th and 10th grade football and is the assistant varsity boys track coach.

Mrs. Book is new here, also. She teaches 3 Computer Literacy classes and enjoys Johnston High School very much.

Mrs. Goshorn teaches Office Practice, Advanced Keyboarding I, Advanced Keyboarding II, Short Hand, Computer Applications, and Business Keyboarding.

Mr. Gross is one of the many math teachers here at Johnston. He has been here for 20 years. He teaches algebra I and II. He finds that both classes are fun when the students learn the basic concepts and begin to apply them. One of his main goals was to try to show students that Math can be fun. He has accomplished this to his standards.

Mrs. VanFarowe is another Math teacher here at Johnston. She has been here for five years teaching Geometry, Pre-Algebra Fundamental Math. She says that Geometry is her favorite class because it is so varied and the student really tries to do their best. Mrs. VanFarowe would like to end on this note: "ge the most out of your high school education, its the best free schooling you will probably ever have."

Another Math teacher on our staff is Mrs. Book. This is her first year teaching Algebra at JHS. Her goals were to help students to understand and not be intimidated by the new Algebra Concepts. A suggestion for future students is "work hard to do your best—you are working on the foundation for your future."

Mr. Auxier is our last but not least, Math teacher here at JHS. This is his first year teaching Statistics, Consumer Math, Anal. Geometry, and Trig. His ending note is "I would like to advise students to take as much math and science as they can in High School." Mr. Peterson was a student teacher from UNI under Mr. Auxier.

SPACE —MATHEMATICAL CALCULATION

GLACTICAL (HOME) ECONOMICS

Mrs. Lauen has been the instructor for the foods, clothing, Child Development, and Skills for living classes, here at Johnston for the past 12 years.

She feels that the foods classes are the easiest because she doesn't have to wait for students to bring in projects. They are also more enjoyable because they provide more of a challenge.

We wish Mrs. Lauen luck in the years to come to accomplish all her goals. This year her goal was to get the curriculum goals finished and she feels she has carried this out.

Art's Alive in '88!

The art department at J.H.S. is blessed once again to have Mr. Daniel Weiss educate persons through the experience of art.

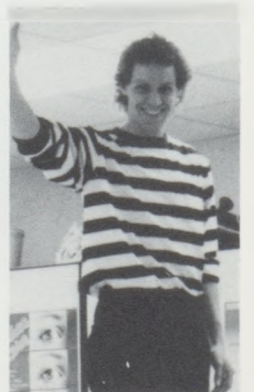

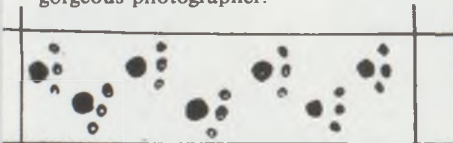

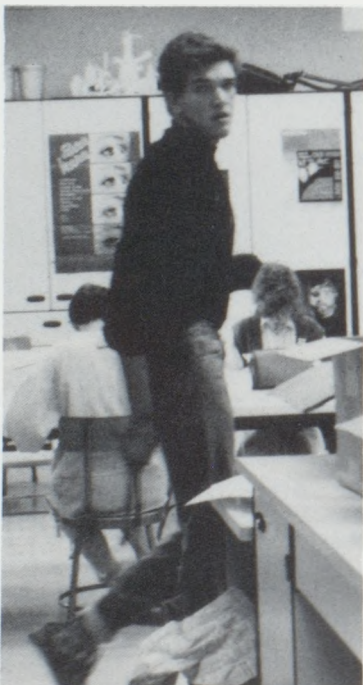

Students who work with Mr. Weiss for more than a semester seem to grow in their understanding of art. He grades by objectives. If you don't meet the objectives, you don't get the point. This lets students know exactly why they received the grade they did.

Classes offered this year are: Photo Art, Clay/Sculpture, Design I and II, drawing, Intro to Art, painting, and Advanced Studies. In all of these classes, students learn the processes of ideation, creation, and evaluation.

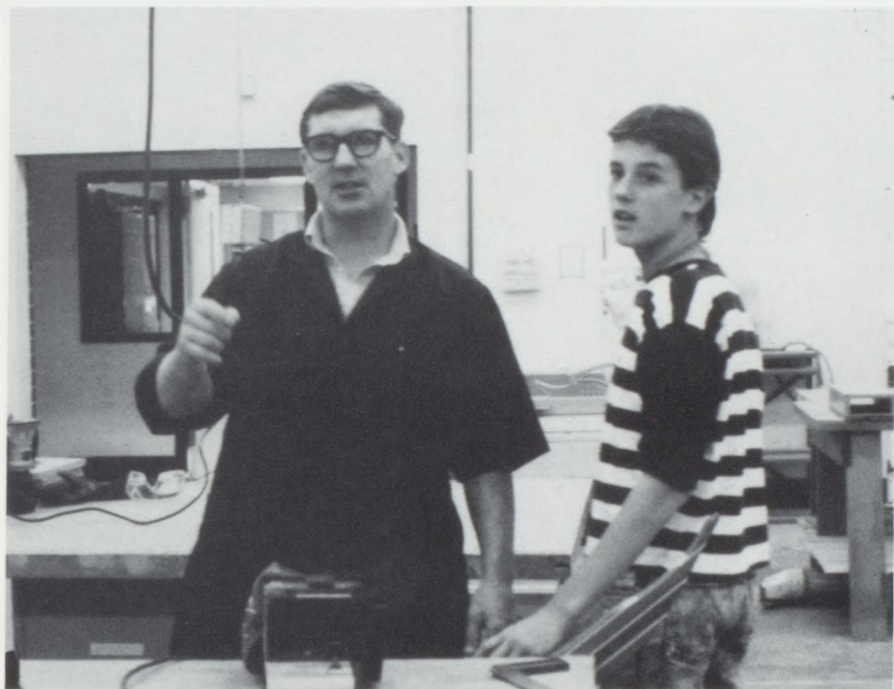

In the words of Mr. Weiss: "I still believe that the greatest, most liberating, and intellectual pursuit towards the educational experience is through the fine arts."

Top: Weiss says, "The fluorescent lights seem to buzz less loudly than other high schools, the institutional foods are a plus and the students have high regard for good fashion. What else could an educator really want?" Right: Paula Maranhao and Weiss tango. Lower right: High, Weiss? Below: Weiss grabs Wade Foster to illustrate the word "bodice." Below left: Bucky Shanks falls as he stares at the gorgeous photographer.

Industrial Arts Builds the Official Space Ship for the 1989 Moon Races!

We have another new edition to the J.H.S. staff this year. It's Mr. Modlin and he's teaching industrial arts!

Mr. Modlin has taught industrial art for fifteen years at Denison, Spencer, and Dallas Center. Mr. Modlin stated, "At Johnston I have encountered a much more diverse group of people as compared to the rural districts."

The students here seem to think that he has done a wonderful job. Mr. Modlin has made many changes in the curriculum, including the Graphic Communications silkscreening projects.

Mr. Modlin has wanted to teach since joining Future Teachers of America as a sophomore in high school. "I feel that I'm giving the kids something they're going to use for years and years."

Special Ed. Keeps Up the Pace

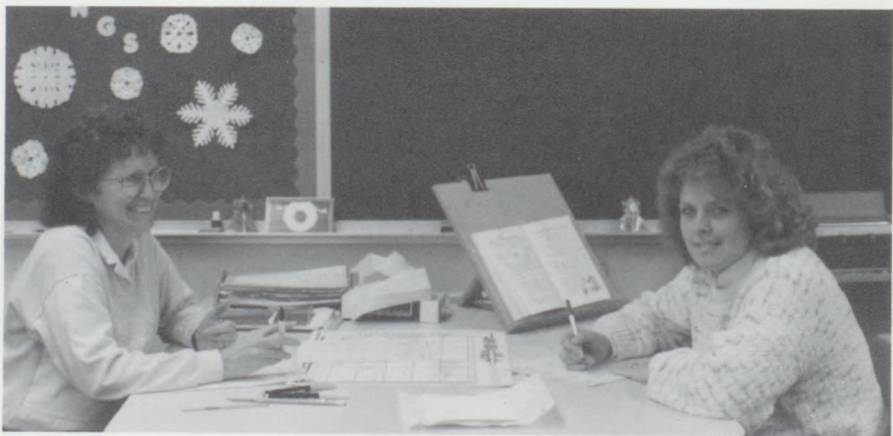

This year's Special Education program consisted of three teachers and three aids. They are Mrs. Harrison, Mr. Wandro, and Mrs. Pitzen. The aids are Mrs. Kinsey, Mrs. Wescot and Mrs. Parsons.

Special Education students participated in a variety of classes including math and science. They also received help with their homework.

When Mr. Wandro was asked what he thought of the Special Education he replied, "It allows these same students the opportunity to take advantage of our diversity and strengthen their weaknesses that prevent them from achieving success in the regular classrooms."

JHS Library really Booked in 88'

The JHS Library is expanding every day. The library is getting a lot of new books and equipment. The card catalog is now on computer and will soon be available to students.

Mrs. Babcock has been the librarian here at Johnston since 1970. Mrs. Babcock is a very busy person involved with all aspects of media for the district. Mrs. Babcock commented, "I love to read and to work with computers, so this job is very exciting now."

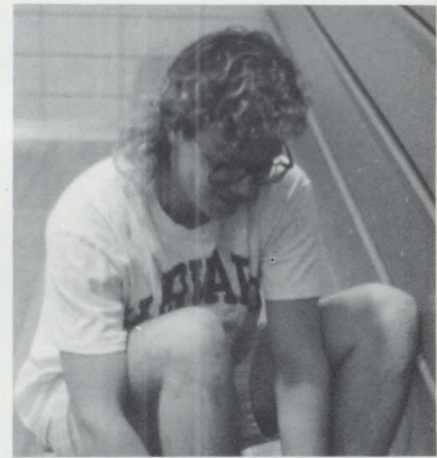

Mrs. Cookie Cranston, our library aid, says she enjoys her job at JHS. She said, "There's never a dull moment and Johnston High School students are delightful to be around. She also commented that she enjoyed her work with Teen Leadership Connection a lot.

PE Classes Train For Space Combat

The Physical Education program here at Johnston is supervised by Shari Walling and Larry Strickler. Mr. Strickler and Ms. Walling work hard to give the students a wide variety of activities designed to make us physically fit. These activities include racquetball, volleyball, badminton, basketball, speed ball, and scooter hockey. Thanks to our excellent instructors, our gym classes are generally fun and entertaining.

Custodians and Cooks Stir Up Some Stars

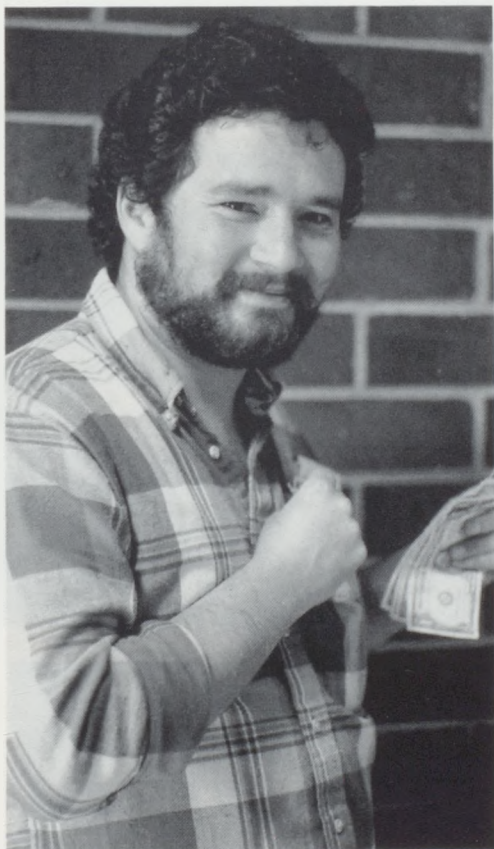

Johnston High School's custodians help to contribute to the school's beauty and well being. This work includes things such as mowing, snow removal, repairing broken desks, etc. Heading up all of these grueling tasks is Tim Cline, the head high school custodian. For now, Tim shares his office with Roger Fussleman. Roger is the district custodian. Tim claims that soon he will have his own office in the Sears Tower at the mall!

Tim's subordinates are Al Campbell, Jeff Jayne, Tom Comer, Dennis Manning, and George Smith . . . Although they have tough jobs, someone has to see that Johnston is well kept and in proper working order, and these are the guys to do it!

It's lunch time here at J.H.S. and the kids come running up to the lunch room to see what's been prepared. We all have our theories on the food that awaits us, but what about the cooks who prepare it? Libby Breen, Faye Evans, Ann Koch, and Norma Jean Wallin are the cooks. We found out several interesting facts about the lunch program. About two-thirds of the meals are prepared by the cooks, and at least two of the cooks must be here by 7:00 AM to start lunch, and they don't leave until after 2:00 PM. They must also come to school regardless of the weather conditions!

CAPTAINS OF THE SHIP

Who keeps the Johnston school district running? It's the administration, of course! Just what do they do, you might ask? Well, the administration is responsible for mailing school publications to parents, paying the bills, making decisions on budget and making decisions on how the school should be run. The school board also holds monthly meetings from the administration office. Without all of these services that the administration provides and is in charge of, our school would not be able to function.

The school board members for the 1988-89 school year are: Mr. Friestad, superintendent; Dale D. Belknap, president; Doyle D. Sanders, vice president; Sara C. Hendricks, Secretary; Barbara Allen; James Arthur and Donald Hall.

MISSION IS A SUCCESS

This year's yearbook staff was full of determined and hard-working people. Despite problems with a computer program used to write the yearbook and a theme change in the middle of the year, the staff has once again come through with an excellent yearbook. This was Ann Smith's third year as the yearbook advisor. Her job was to keep the staff on schedule and help out with any problems that could possibly come up. Corrie Chatterton and Shelaine Harbart were the editors, and the other staff members included Penny Nichols, Shannon Sorter, Laurie Papenheim, Bobbi Jo Pullen, Kami Gay, Kiersten Knutson, Anne Arthur, Bob Agnew, Ramel Olcott, Robert Neilson, Jennifer Wilkinson, Amy Smith, and Lisa Rittgers. Congratulations on completing another yearbook!

"Take Me To Your Leader!"

The very first Johnston Leadership Retreat took place October 26, at the Y-camp in Boone. It proved to be a wonderful success. The students that went participated in a variety of activities. Leadership qualities were discussed by students in their family groups, which were groups of ten and a teacher. Dr. Ray Pugh and Dare Hardy were guest speakers. Free time consisted of horseback riding, repelling, and archery. The counselors did a great job of organizing fun games that everyone enjoyed, such as the scavenger hunt, a costume contest, a night hike, and a ghost story with listener participation.

INTELLIGENT LIFE AT JHS!?!

For the second year in a row, J.H.S. had an academic team. The team's fearless leader was Dale Dounda. The group usually used computers to complete their competition entries, and had a very successful season overall. Top: Team members are: Erica Carter, Brian Morris, Jenny Westover, Brian Jorgenson, Pino Gonzales, Lisa Bergsma, Jason Auxier, Jeremy Bro, Stephanie Moon, Shelaine Harbart, Anne Patterson, Jenny Steinbrook, Erin McDonald, Ryan Flannery, Chris Whitehill, Brian Smith, and Tia Nelson. Middle: Brian Smith may be smart, but he's not very photogenic! Below: Shelaine Harbart shouts, "I Know! It was President Carson!"

MOCK TRIAL TEAM FREES MR. SPOCK

A relatively new addition to Johnston High School's extra-curricular activity program is the Mock Trial Team. This program has been going on for two years here at JHS. Teams of students research and then present actual court cases before a real judge, competing against teams from other schools. The students get a first-hand look at how legal procedures work.

The Mock Trial program at JHS was run by Mr. Carver, who told the annual staff that he enjoyed working with the students on different cases. The case this year involved the delicate issue of spousal abuse.

Chorus Sings Theme of Star Wars

The 90+ voiced Johnston SR. High Chorus started the year with a concert called Harvest of Harmony's. The songs that the chorus sang were : Swingin' with the Saints, Winterscene and the audience's favorite God Bless America.

The second semester started with many new members joining the SR. High Chorus. The second concert was called Festival of Nations. this concert was a new experience because the chorus sang songs from different countries. The countries where the songs were from are : Korea, Japan, Turkey, Brazil, Africa, and the United States. The chorus ended the year with a formal concert and singing at Commencement.

Madrigal Dinner Caught

The 1988 Madrigal dinner was a huge success. Miller Armory Hall was beautifully decorated so the guests would feel as if they had traveled back in time to the fifteenth century. Mrs. White, the director, put much of her free time into everything that was organized which was the reason why the performances were pulled off smoothly.

The Madrigal Dinner is done mostly by the students. There is no conductor during the performances and committees of students organize the decorations, props, and ticket sales. On Thursday night they received a standing ovation.

CONCERT CHOIR SINGS "HARVEST MOON"

The 1989 Concert Choir had a very good year this year. They started out strong with the fall concert and the all-conference choral festival at Johnston. From there they started work on the Madrigal Dinner and sold the most tickets ever. When contest season came they started three new songs including "Good Ale" and Ezekiel Saw de Wheel". They worked hard and ended up getting not only a superior rating but also perfect scores from every judge. It was a great way to finish the year.

Swingin' on a Star

The Johnston High Swing Choir is an outstanding group at Johnston. This year they performed at many contests all over Iowa.

At Urbandale they won first in Class 2A and were chosen to compete in the finals that evening. That night they competed with four other outstanding choirs from 3A and 4A schools and managed to come in third over all.

This year the group sang songs ranging from "Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey?" and "Love My Music:" to their novelty which was a spoof on an opera. The Swing Choir worked well together and had a very good year. Mrs. White commented, "Although this was the largest group in the history of JHS swing choirs, it was also one of the most unified. Novices and veterans, Sophs and seniors, all worked together to accomplish our musical goals: I am proud to be their director."

SOUND ADVICE TO THE STARS

Sound Advice made JHS history this year! For the first time ever Sound Advice earned a division I superior rating at State Swing Choir Contest held at Williamsburg. In past years Sound Advice has done very well and received excellent ratings, but this year Johnston was the only school who had a prep choir get a division I as well as their top choir.

Mrs. White said, "Sound Advice members are very committed to excellence. Considering the fact that all of the boys in the group are freshmen and half of the girls were inexperienced at the beginning of the year, the group has really matured in vocal production and stage presence."

Mrs. White also said, "I would like to give credit to the back-up band for their hard work and excellent musicianship: Kevin Brown—drums, John Stark—bass, Robert Nielsen—guitar. They were an asset to the group."

JHS JAZZ BAND MOONLIGHTS IN "STAR WARS" CANTINA

The 1988-89 edition of the Johnston High School Jazz Band has achieved many of the goals set for it at the beginning of the year by their director, Mr. Albrecht.

The band earned a Division I, or Superior rating at the State Swing Choir/Jazz Band contest, and have earned high ratings at other contests throughout the year.

The Jazz Band consists of twenty-three members this year, six of which are seniors. Mr. Albrecht told the yearbook staff, "I'm really pleased with the performance of the band, especially our soloists, this year."

What began as a year of rebuilding for the concert band ended up being very successful. The band worked on a wide variety of literature. Many pieces they played were considered college literature. They received a division 1 rating at state large group.

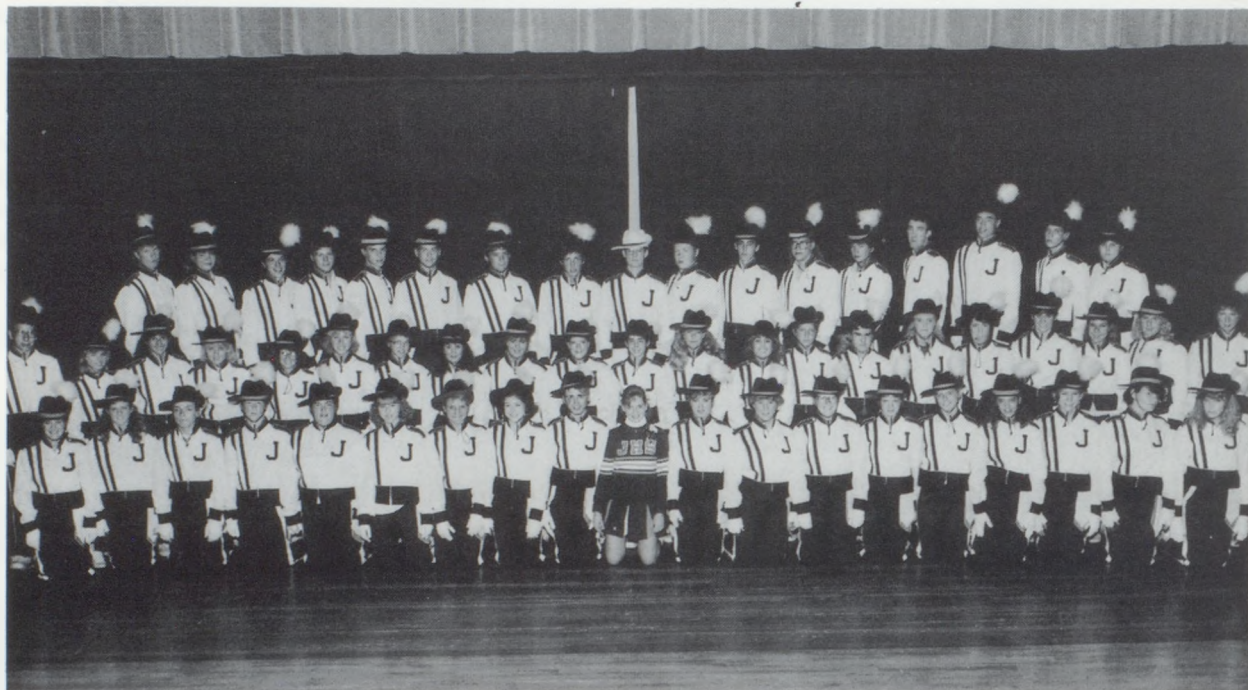

They ended up the year with a trip to Chicago in which they performed at Daley Plaza. When asked about the trip Jennipher Wilkinson said, "It was awesome. It gave us small town kids a chance to know the big city!"

Overall Mr. Albrecht said the year was great.

Marching Band Drowns in Milky Way

The 1988 marching band was directed by Richard Albrecht. He made more complicated drills this year and used a computer to help generate them. Some of the songs performed by the band included "Cobra", "Jubilate", and "Rock Around the Clock". For Homecoming they put on a special half-time show which included fight songs from universities in Iowa.

The marching band consisted of 59 members, 13 flag corps members, and senior twirler Corrie Chatterton, who was the 1988 Miss Majorette of Iowa. The band was a young one. Mr. Albrecht said, "Even though we have a large group of seniors, the majority of the band members are underclassmen, and as the group matures in their playing, the band will get better and better."

FLAG CORP—ONE STEP FOR WOMANKIND

This year's Flag Corp included thirteen women. The Flag Corp marched at home football games, and in the Drake Relays Parade. Each girl had to try out to be a member, and had to practice and perform different routines during the school year.

There were five senior members of the team who will be missed next year. According to Mr. Albrecht, band director, "I consider Flag Corp to be an important part of the marching band because of the visual effect they provide."

Cheerleaders Prepare Fans

As usual, the 1988 JHS cheerleading squads did an excellent job of providing school spirit for the many different sports.

During the summer, members of the squads prepared for the upcoming school year by attending camps. Margaret Little and Anne Arthur went to Iowa State, and Wendy Hansen, Corrie Chatterton, Kristin Garland, Makyla Thran, Jesse Foley, Carrie Hall, Tammy Sonksen, Nicole Ball, and Christina Osbourn went to the University of Iowa for camp. Both squads received Spirit awards during their stays, and Anne and Margaret received an outstanding squad trophy.

The squads all began their preparations for Homecoming '88 in August, and succeeded in putting on quite a show . . . as usual! Thanks to all of the cheerleaders for their support!

TLC IS HIGH ON LIFE

Teen Leadership Connection, or simply TLC, is sponsored by the National Council on Alcoholism and has active groups in all the high schools in Polk County.

TLC had a lot of activities and fundraisers over the year including a food drive in December in which over 3300 food items were collected and given to Iowa's Children and Family Services. Other activities included a fundraiser for the release of 1,000 helium balloons at the kickoff of the Homecoming football game and a Homecoming float for the parade.

Another project in December was Project Red Ribbon. Red plastic ribbons were distributed to be tied on cars as an awareness for safe and sober driving through the holidays.

TLC provided several dances including a Valentine's dance and a dance with Rock'n Video Concepts. They also had a lock-in for TLC members and guest.

TLC had an executive board this year and they were Brian Smith, Jeff Rains, Chad Langworthy, Makyla Thran, Cara Brown, and Meredith Kirkland.

JHS Drill Team Goes Back to the Fifties

The 1988-89 drill team was a great success. Not only were there new uniforms, there was also a new leader. Becky Hall brought many new ideas and techniques to the routines which included a light show at Christmas. The dances were performed at the basketball games on Friday nights. The senior girls on the team also made up a fifties dance to the song "Your Mama Don't Dance" by the rock group Poison.

Members of the drill team raised money for new sweatshirts and uniforms through candy sales. They also hosted a dance after one of the games.

Captains this year were Anne Arthur, Jami Reese, and Carie Hall. Anne and Carie also performed at the girls' state basketball tournament.

Universal Knowledge

This year in the National Honor Society there are 20 students involved. To be in National Honor Society an average of 3.4 is required. Mrs. Scott said, "The kids are having a Christmas party with the handicapped kids. They are also having a Blood Bank sponsored by National Honor Society and the Student Council. The officers of National Society are president, Darren Young; Vice-president, Mark Blanchard; Secretary, Janelle Holst; Treasurer, Ryan Chamberlain, and Historian, Khanh Le. STUDENT COUNCIL BOLDLY GOES WHERE NO ONE HAS GONE BEFORE

The J.H.S. Student Council does many beneficial and important things. They help to make the student body's views and concerns known to the teachers and the staff, as well as sponsoring different school functions (such as the blood drive and dances). The student council is solely responsible for Johnston's first ever . . . you guessed it . . . pop machine! They have several other ideas currently being planned.

STUDENTS AGAINST DRUNK DRIVING

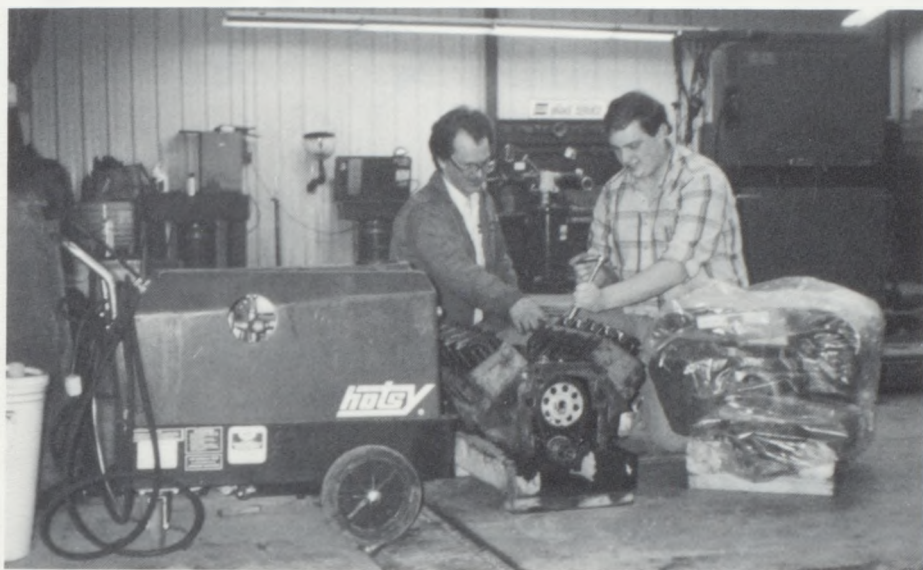

This year the S.A.D.D. group (students against drunk driving) supported and participated in many different events. The SADD members had a float in the Homecoming parade, and they sold donuts and carnations to earn extra money for the group. They were also involved in the Dollars for Scholars program, and they donated two hundred dollars to the after prom party.

The TLC "dead day" also proved to be a learning experience for SADD members. Thirty-nine SADD and TLC members dressed in black to represent the people who were killed this year in alcohol related accidents. These members who participated could not speak to anyone for an entire day.

The SADD group also got together with surrounding SADD groups for the hospitality tent at the Ruan Center's Grand Prix that was held July 7th, 8th and 9th. Mr. Pitz and the SADD members would like to double or triple the amount of people who attend the meetings for next year. They would also like to invite anyone to sit in on their meetings.

The purpose of the Experienced Based Career Education Class is for students with special needs to observe different job sites, to give them a better understanding of just exactly what specific jobs entail. Students in EBCE are placed at job sites four days each week, two hours per day. The average length of stay at a job site is six to eight weeks.

When asked about future plans for the class, Mr. Wandro said, "Enrollment in this particular class has dramatically increased." Mr. Wandro also stated that he felt this was a valuable class because it gives kids with special needs very practical experiences for the future.

REACHING NEW HEIGHTS

For the first time, J.H.S. had a co-ed cheerleading squad. This varsity competition squad consisted of 16 students and was coached by Marty Johnson, who is the head of cheerleading at Drake University. The squad practiced from 6:00am to 7:30am before school and from 3:30 pm until 5:00pm after school for two consecutive weeks before competing in the regional division of the national high school cheerleading championships at Bradley University in Peoria, Illinois. The squad finished in third place, but did not qualify to go on to nationals in Florida.

As far as the students in the group, everyone was pleased with the results considering the fact that this was their first competition and they had only one month to prepare for it. Makyla Thran said, "At first, it was really hard getting used to working with the guys and learning new stunts, but all of the hard work really paid off! I'm really looking forward to being on the squad next year." Erik Oiler said, "It made me realize how hard cheerleading could be, and I have a lot more respect for cheerleaders now than before."

The members of the squad are: Kari Gay (captain), Wendy Hansen (captain), Anne Arthur, Corrie Chatterton, Margaret Little, Jesi Foley, Carrie Hall, Makyla Thran, Keith Lee, Erik Oiler, Chad Christiansen, Matt Matson, Steve Juhlin, David Gomis, Zac Dieter, and Jay Stucki.

Anne Arthur was selected off of the squad at a competition at Merle Hay Mall to be a Hula Bowl cheerleader. Way to go, Anne!!

JHS FOOTBALL TEAM

The coaches felt that the football team's Homecoming victory over Perry was the highlight of the season. When we asked Coach Sypniewski what he thought of game attendance he replied, "I think it has been great!—It has helped the kids play better, but we need more bleachers for the high school and junior high school kids to sit on."

There are two other coaches besides George Sypniewski: Gary Auxier—10th, Frank Baltzley—9th, and assistant coaches Ralph Young and Fritz Keeling. The coaching approach is different every year because of the different personalities of the kids, and the different abilities.

This has been a great football season. Good job, Dragons and good luck next year!

Cross Country Team Runs Out of Fuel

This year was a good year for the cross country team.

The boys' team improved a great deal over the season. Each team member improved their own performance.

The two most improved runners were Brad Craig and Mark Vanderlinden. They both worked really hard this season, as true with the whole team.

This year's team captain, Greg Ojendyk, has been two time all-stater and also won conference two times in a row. Over all, Ojendyk placed first in many of the meets, and the team as a whole placed third in timing. The toughest meets to place in took place at Ballard-Huxley and Nevada.

The girl's cross country team is combined with Urbandale. The two runners from Johnston who are on the team are senior Anne Patterson and sophomore Dianna Leftridge. Both had a wonderful season improving their times by a minute or more. Their favorite course was Oskaloosa.

The guys and girls teams combined and carried on the tradition of running the Homecoming game football in from the opponents town, which happened to be Perry this year (approximately 35 miles away).

Way to go JHS Cross Country Teams! Another season well done!

Swimming through Space

When asked about the boy's swimming team, Miss Walling replied, "Awesome." Johnston had five members on the ten member combined Urbandale-Johnston team. They were seniors Matt Baker and Chandler Woodward, juniors Brad Kreamer and Bernie Timmerman and sophomore Ryan Flannery. The team record was 2-6-1 with the team finishing fourth in Districts. The team had eight out of ten state qualifiers.

Miss Walling said the girl's swimming team had a very successful year. Their record was 7-3. In the Central Iowa Conference the team had only one loss which was against Newton.

Johnston had three swimmers and one diver on the twenty-nine member girls team. They were seniors Jennifer Doak and Kim Lundy, freshmen diver Amy Doak and the only returning swimmer Jill Papenheim.

When Coach Walling was asked why she coached swimming she said, "I have always enjoyed the sport of swimming. It teaches self-discipline and commitment. It is competitive sport which is both individual and team oriented.

Shoot The Moon

The Johnston High School Boy's Basketball team finished its season with a record of 7-7 in the conference, which was good for 7th place. They had an exceptional year, beating out the eventual conference champs, Clark of Osceola by three points.

Several Dragon players were named for post season honors: Ken Tjaden made first Team All-Conference, Frank Gilliam made 2nd team, Jeff Heinen earned Special Mention, and Scott Maasen earned Honorable Mention. Although the team will lose four talented seniors next year, according to Coach Sanders, "There are many underclassmen waiting for a shot at the title for the Dragon's Basketball team"

Girls Basketball Slam Dunks

The Johnston High School Lady Dragons finished tied for sixth-place in the Little Hawkeye Conference. The conference record was 3 and 11 with a 3 and 17 record overall.

Finishing their last season were senior forward Kari Bobst and senior guards Jennifer Doak, Sharon Lindstrom and Tricia Tedesco.

Senior Jennifer Doak led the defense in rebounding with 84 for the season.

The offense was led by Michelle Schlenker averaging 24.8 points per game.

Michelle shot 50.5 percent from the field for all shots and 55 percent for 2-point goals.

Michelle Schlenker was named to the all-conference second team. Senior Jennifer Doak was named as special mention selection. Senior Kari Bobst was an honorable mention selection.

Wrestlers Make It to the Top in "89"

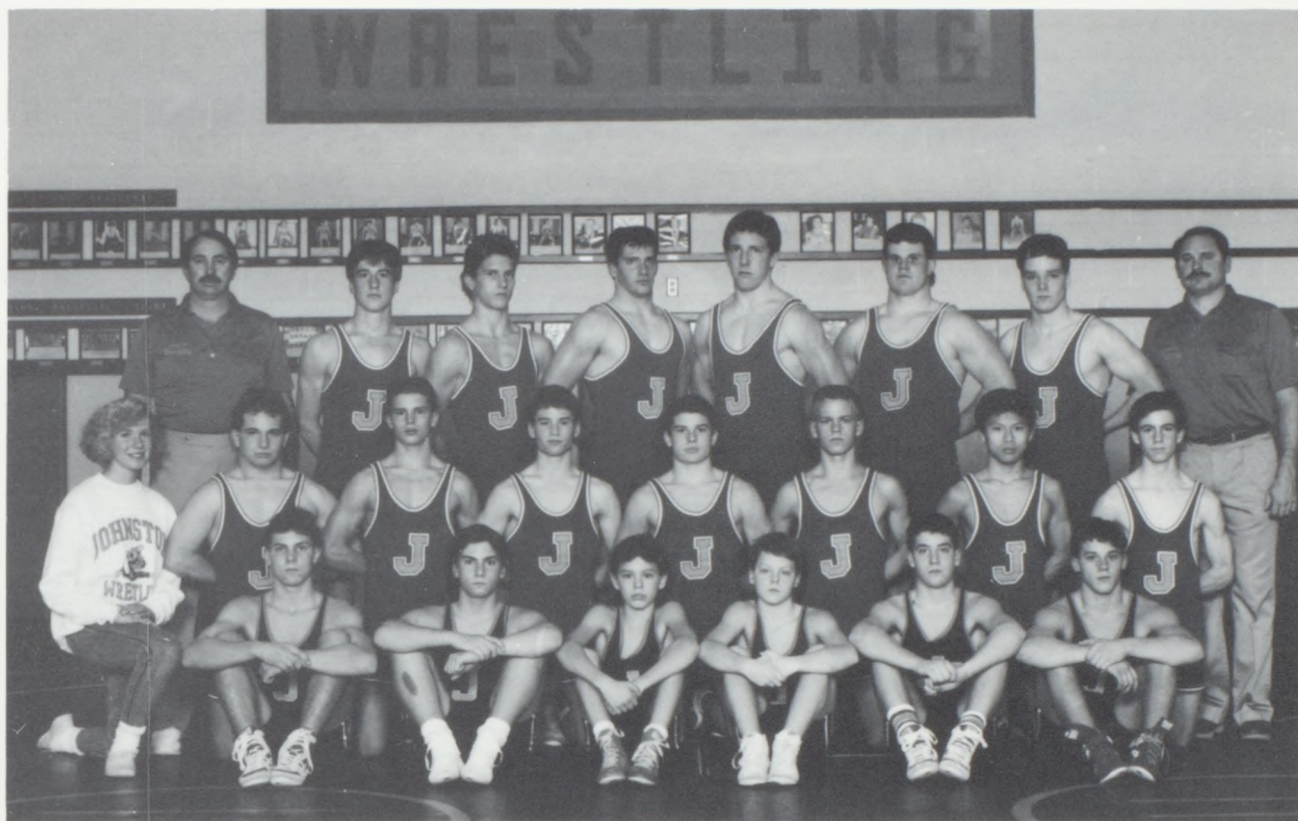

The 88-89 Wrestling season was very successful, both individually and as a team. Five of our wrestlers went to state. They were junior Matt Duckworth (119) (who received fourth place, junior Troy Langos (130) who was injured in one of his matches but still received sixth place. Senior David Gomis (171) received fifth place. Senior Chris Jones (160), and junior Erik Oiler (275) also qualified for state.

David Gomis (171) was voted Most Outstanding Wrestler, Charlie Wilkinson (135) received the Most Improved Wrestler award, and Ryan Woodruff was voted Most Outstanding freshman.

When asked to comment on his wrestlers Frank Baltzley, said, "They are a great group of wrestlers, citizens, and students.

As a team they were 19-4 in dual meets and just missed the final 4 in state dual meets.

Boy's and Girl's Track

The 1988-89 Boys Track team won the first conference championship for the boys athletic program in the new Little Hawkeye conference. They went on to the Carlisle Invitational and won their class division. Some of our athletes qualified for the Drake Relays. The 4-100 relay team of Zac Dieter, Chad Langworthy, Darren Young, and Dave Gomis qualified as did Frank Gilliam in the high with a jump of 6'4 1/2". This jump broke the old Johnston High School record. Mr. Syp told the year book staff, "The Track team had an outstanding performance by all its members to pull out a Conference Victory!!

According to Coach Oldham, the track team will lose seven seniors next year, but they have a fine nucleus returning next season. Coach Oldham said, "With the addition of the new ninth graders we should again challenge for the conference championship."

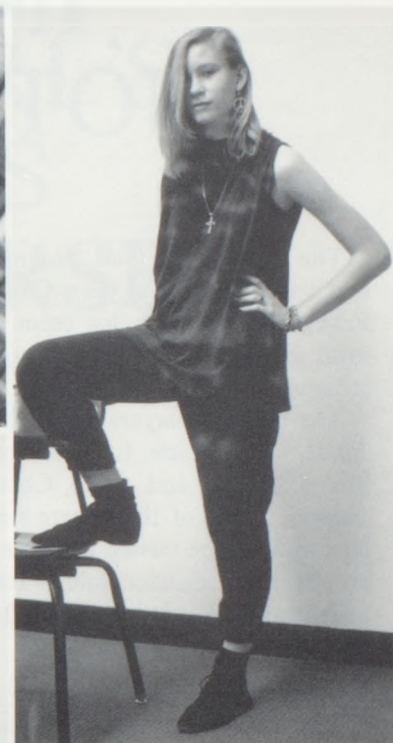

FASHION: IT'S UNIVERSAL

Fashion! Fashion! Fashion!

Again this year Johnston students proved themselves to be the epitamy of high fashion in our corner of the galaxy. Since students are creative and expressive with what they wear, and what they don't wear, we have a real school that's fashionable to boot!

IN A GALAXY NOT SO FAR AWAY

The JHS Boys Golf program had a very successful year. Coach Frank Sanders took his team of nine golfers through a tough schedule, defeating five teams.

The top five players were: Ken Tjaden, Steve Lisle, Erik Holling, Shane Bieber, and Chad Christianson. Three of these were seniors, and will be missed next year. However, Mr. Sanders told us that he is confident that he can build a strong team next season.

BOY'S AND GIRL'S GOLF TEAMS STAY ON COURSE

The 1988-89 Johnston Girls Golf team consisted of five members: Jenni Glover, Sara Krieg, Julianne Friestad, Jesi Foley, and Kelli Johnson. Mr. Carver, the team's coach, said, "This has been a rebuilding year." The team finished sixth in the Little Hawkeye Conference tournament.

Julianne Friestad and Kelli Johnson battled for the number one golfer spot all season long, and Mr. Carver also commented on two other girls, Jenni Glover and Sara Krieg, saying, "Neither of these girls played golf before, and I'm very pleased with their play."

BOY'S TENNIS TEAM HAS STELLAR STROKES

Although the boy's Urbandale-Johnston tennis team lost six of its players, they did a lot better than anticipated. The team ended up with a 6 and 3 record overall. The boys' team lost to Ankeny in the conference, but ended up 4th in the conference.

Brian Morris ended up 4th place at the Number-one singles division and Bernie Timmerman ended up 5th place in the number one doubles division. Brian Morris, only a freshmen, played extremely well this year for the varsity team. Coach Trowe stated, "The team did a real good job even though we lost some seniors. They played a lot of great tennis in a short time."

Johnston varsity team members were: Bernie Timmerman and Brian Morris. JV members were: Matt Scott, Todd Lindhoff, Brian Glenn, Ryan Flannery, Matt Baker, John Flanagan, Scott Pecinovsky, Ryan Woodruff, and Scott Fleener.

GIRL'S TENNIS TEAM IS OUT OF THIS WORLD

JHS girls' tennis had an awesome season. Thanks to Miss Walling and the team.

This season they have won 10 meets and have only lost 1.

The following girls went to Sectional: for singles, Molly and Sharon, and for doubles, Kim, Lauri, Erin and Stacy.

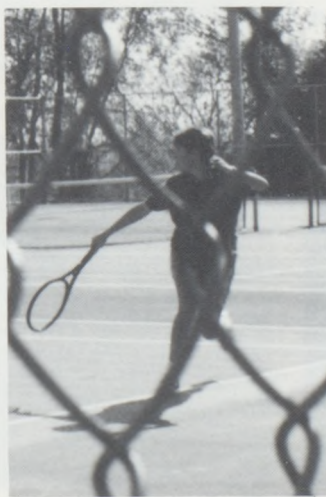

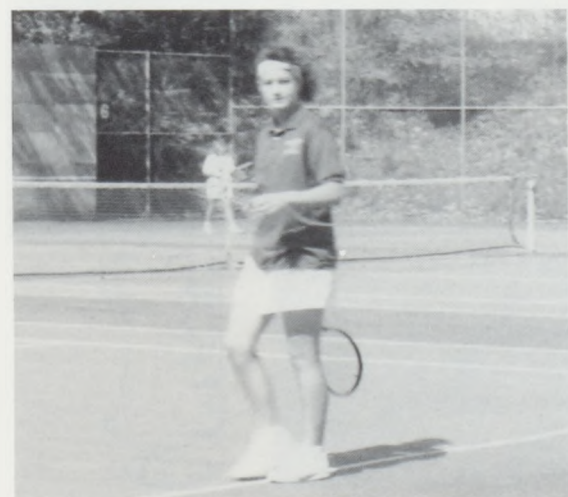

Molly and Sharon also went to Regionals.

"This year's tennis teams are a wonderful bunch of hard working, fun people, who are determined to have an outstanding season! Team members are individually competitive, so competition within the team should overall improve- Yea Rah!" says Miss Walling.

Congrats go to the team for all the hard work!

Varsity members: Molly Ahern, Sharon Lindstrom, Erin McDonald, Stacti Vanderhart, Kim Lundy, Laurie Papenheim, Jill Papenheim, Cathy Jeffries, Steph Moon, Amy Mentele, Amy Tedesco, Lisa Moss, and Tammy Sonksen. HITTING INTO SPACE

The coaches for this years baseball team consisted of Jim Mahoney for Varsity, Jerry Kinder for Junior Varsity and Fritz Kieling for the ninth grade team.

According to Mr. Mahoney, "The Dragons played well at times, but could not maintain that type of play throughout the entire season. It was just one of those seasons when pitchers pitched well, they did not hit, and in games when they gave up a lot of runs, they just could not get enough runs." The team ended the season with a 4-24 record.

This season was the last one for many graduating seniors. These seniors were: Brad Voorhees, who led the team with a 417 bating average, Matt Jones, Chris Bertrand, Dave Kinman, Dave DeCook, Jared Hill, Jason Kreps and Brent Rankin.

Brad Voorhees and Brent Rankin received post season honors for 2nd team all conference. Jared Hill and Chris Bertrand received post season honors in 2nd team all district.

The returning Dragons are looking forward to playing in the new little Hawkeye Conference.

Softball Season is Out of This World!

The 1988 JHS softball team had their best record in 12 years. At the end of the season their record was 8-16. Coach Shari Walling has even higher expectations for the 1989 season with 9 returning varsity letterwinners "who bring experience and leadership to the team." "The varsity team members were reliable and dedicated and continued to show improvement throughout the season."

There were several team and individual honors including being champions of the B Division of the Boone Tournament. Misy Grimes made 2nd team all conference as a catcher and she was also captain for the Johnston team. Kari Bobst, Jenni Myer, Jill Swallow, and Rachelle Thran received honorable mentions. Jennifer Doak and Rachelle Thran are the co-captains for the '89 season. The J.V. team was coached by John Carver. It was his first year coaching softball at J.H.S. Mr. Carver felt that, "The team got better at playing softball and working with each other over the season and I have high expectations for next year."

Their record for this year was 7-10, and he expects an even better record next year.

With all the dedication and the returning and the new talent, the 1989 softball season is sure to be a success!

JHS Star Soccer Team

The 1988 soccer team was coached by Mr. Harswick and Mr. Wandro. The team played Urbandale, South East Polk, Ankeny, Dowling, Indianola, Waukee, and Adel. Their record for the season was seven wins, seven losses, and one tie. One of the highlights of the season was the victory against Ankeny at Ankeny. They won third in the Johnston Invitational.

Greg Ojendyk and Steve Thompson made first team All-League. Mike Watne and Charlie Wilkinson made second team All-League and Adam Keller, Rich Dunn, and Mark Vanderlind received honorable mention.

Mr. Harswick commented, "We have a good nucleus of a team coming back and we hope to give our opponents an interesting season."

Kamikaze Spiker Saves the Planet

The 1988-1989 volleyball team did extremely well this year and showed much improvement as the season progressed. The season began with a hard-earned victory over Ballard after 5 long games. The team also earned third place with honors in the I-35 Tournament, and placed second out of six teams at the Saydel Invitational. Their win over Carlisle was their first regular season match win in two years.

Michelle Schlenker and Heidi Annable recieved All-Tournament honors, and Rachelle Thran, Staci Vanderhart, and Michelle Schlenker were named to the honorable mention team. Heidi Annable was placed on the second All-Conference team.

The players were all full of ambition and had the momentum to conquer the world this year! Way to go!

JHS Coronation 1988-89

Homecoming has always been a special time of year. This past year was no different. Students were wrapped up in Homecoming fever weeks before the event. They were in the process of creating unique floats, banners, and costumes for the game as well as voting in the court elections. This year the coronation took place Thursday, October 21, 1988 in the auditorium.

Spirit wise, the 1988 homecoming was one of the best that Johnston has ever seen. The students were so full of energy, it was a winner for sure!

When we asked Mr. Downs what he thought, he replied, "The Pride is Back' was a very appropriate theme for this year's homecoming. There was something good in everything that happened over the week!"

Monday was California day, Tuesday was dress-up day, Wednesday was cartoon day, Thursday was crazy clothes day, and Friday was the traditional purple and gold day. Overall, the outfits were pretty outrageous this year. Way to go on the spirit, JHS!

Top left: Kelli Johnson, Taige Isles, and Travis Mollendor make a big splash with the students. Top right: Denise Bacon and Ryan Alexander: If only Pebbles Flintstone could capture that look! Bottom middle: Tiffany Crouch and Taige Isles do a great job of dressing like their cartoon favorites! Unfortunately, Jennifer DeFrance's camouflage doesn't work...we can still see her! Bottom right: I thought this was dress-up day, Cindy Bertrand, Brian Smith, and Kristin Garland!

We carried on our homecoming tradition from last year. The spectacular floats and creative hall decorations made our homecoming week a huge success.

The theme chosen by the freshman was "Cage the Jays."

The sophomore theme was "Be-head Perry", and on their float was a guillotine and a casket.

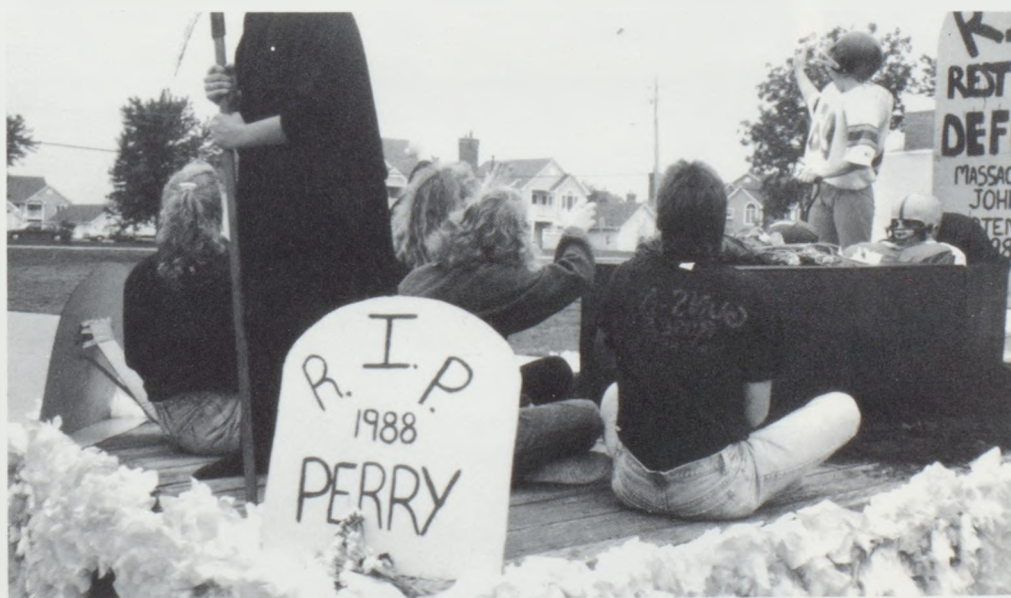

"Bury Perry" was the juniors theme this year. They had a coffin along with people dressed in black.

The Seniors (!!!) float consisted of a dragon head burning a blujay with its mighty flames. The seniors' float theme was "ALL FIRED UP."

Again the class of "89", this year's seniors, won the overall Homecoming Class Competition.

Middle: Look at the ROWDY group! It is obvious they must be seniors. Top: The seniors' float theme was "ALL FIRED UP." Bottom: The morbid juniors' float made a definite statement.

HOMECOMING LXXXVIII

The 88-89 Homecoming dance has to have been the most successful dance Johnston High School has ever seen! Rockin' Video Concepts supplied the music and videos and kept everyone dancing. Even the normal dance wallflowers were on the floor having a great time!

On the evening of December 22, 1988, the Johnston High School Drama Class preformed two one-act plays, "The Open Window" and "Take Five."

"The Open Window"'s cast consisted of Brian Smith as Frampton Nottle, Hillori Knaphus as Mrs. Sappleton, Jennifer Wilcox as Vera, Kim Lundy as Maria, Kevin Ogden as Mr. Sappleton, and Brad Piner as Freddie.

The plot is about Mr. Frampton, a nervous type, who is renting a room in the country for relaxation. He is met by Vera, a compulsive liar who tells a remarkable story, which Mr. Frampton believes. The story ends by Mr. Frampton running in fear from what he believes are ghosts. "Take Five's" cast was Kevin Ogden as Mike, Kim Lundy as Lester, Brad Piner as Greg, Brian Smith as Alex Cane and Sharon Lindstrom as Gladys.

This play is about everything that could possibly go wrong in a play. One of the actors is missing so they are forced to use a stage hand. A member in the audience is paged and uses the phone on stage during the preformance. These being just a few of what goes wrong making this play enjoyable and unpredictable.

The Stars are out tonight

There have been many plays preformed at Johnston but none quite like "See How They Run." It was full of suspense, miscnceptions and more comedy than one could imagine. Two casts preformed this year. The first cast had Jennifer Wilcox as Penelope Toop, Lori Lewis as Ida, and Lisa Rittgers as Miss Skillon. Brian Smith played Reverend Lionel Toop, Chris Weiss was the intruder, Robert Nielsen was the Bishop, Chris Ring was Arthur Humphrey, Wade Foster was Sergeant Towers and Matt Scott played Clive. In the second cast Shelaine Harbart played Penelope Toop, Makyla Thran played Ida and Meredith Kirkland played Miss Skillon.

In the story Penelope Toop, the wife of a reverend, who had once been an actress meets up with an old friend, Clive, who she used to act with. Clive who is a soldier has to borrow her husbands suit so he won't be caught in uniform out of bounds as they go to see a play they had once been in. Miss Skillon, comes along and mistakes Clive for Penelope's husband, as does everyone else. The Bishop and Arthur Humphrey both show up at the wrong time as Miss Skillion winds up squiffy. By the end of the play there is a identity confusion when a Russian spy gets involved.

Autumn Play "Falls" through Black Hole

Johnston, being no ordinary school, put on quite a unique and dramatic play in the fall of 88. VOICES FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL AND STUFF was taken on by a group of very talented students.

Their play was a combination of comedy and drama, love and hate, drug abuse and death. All cast members did an excellent job portraying teenage characters in real life situations. Mrs. Harbart, director, said, "It was a meaningful play for both students and parents. I felt the cast did a good job, and I enjoyed working with them."

Lower right: Stephanie Moon, Penny Nichols, Laurie Papenheim, and Amy Mentele are living it up at Prom '89."

The 1989 junior-senior prom was a night that will be long remembered by all. The dance was held at the Botanical Center and lasted from 8:30 to 11:30. "Hold on to the Night" was the theme and the Botanical Center was beautifully decorated in red and black with white and black balloons. The evening was a memorable one for the seniors. There was a slide show at 10:15 and seniors looked back on childhood memories with friends. It was a memorable last prom for the seniors.

Top: These senior girls can't seem to find their dates. Middle left: Wendy Hansen says, "Look at me!" Middle right: Lisa Schultz tries to appear elegant despite her psychotic date Matt Baker. Bottom: Staci Vanderhart tries to make up her mind which guy to dance with. Opposite page: Top Left: Jay Sucki, Michelle Schlenker, David Gomis, and Jesi Foley appear to be having a good time at prom. Opposite page: Upper right: Is this a funeral or prom, Erin Quick? Middle left: These three studs appear to be in awe of the photographer. Middle right: Sorry, Kenny Tjaden, disco went out in the "70's. Bottom left: Anne Arthur appears to have control of her freshman date. Bottom middle: Kathy Hoffman can't stop smiling or her dress will fall down. Bottom right: Darren Young and Missy Oldham won the award for the fakest smiles.

Dancing On The Moon

AFTER PROM—FIESTA '89

This years AFTER PROM PARTY was another huge success. Topping off a magical evening the AFTER PROM PARTY kept the festive mood going and provided an alternative to drinking and driving. The Mexican mode of the party gave it the name Fiesta "89".

The activities consisted of games, dancing, food, and exciting prizes. Jason Auxier won $100.00 cash. Jennifer Stark went home with a stand-up Pac-Man video game. Scott Maasen will be flying the friendly skies with one round trip ticket to any city in the U.S. and last, but definitely not least Troy Langos was the lucky winner of an Apple Computer.

These weren't the only winners. We like to think of all the students that attended this memorable event as winners!

Seniors → We're Outta Here!

It's 1989 and the seniors have definitely made this year a year worth remembering. The class is full of a wide array of talents which range from music to sports and from art to academics.

One of this year's additions to the class of '89 was Paula Maranhao. Paula was a foreign exchange student from Brazil who stayed with Jennifer Wilkinson's family from August of 1988 to July, 1989. According to Paula, "Johnston is the best school that a student from Brazil could go to. Everyone was nice to me all year—I will miss this place so much. I had a lot of fun with everybody, and I'll be back, so watch out!"

This year seniors went to state athletic competitions and received honors for academics, music and several other areas. The seniors seem to be the best of the beat, so watch out world! Johnston's class of 1989 is on the loose!

Bobbie Jo Pullen started school here at JHS in the beginning of the 88-89 school year. Bobbie Jo has transferred to JHS from East high and feels that the teachers here expect more from their students, because of the difference in size. The teachers can spend more time with the students to work on assignments.

Bobbie Jo is active in the JHS senior high chorus, and participates in tennis.

Staci Vanderhart has been involved in many activities at J.H.S. She has played volleyball, basketball, tennis, and softball. She has also been a chorus and concert choir member and played in the band. She likes the people at JHS because "They are all nice and they know how to have fun." After graduation she plans to go to college and become an attorney. In her spare time she likes to go out with her friends.

Erik Oiler is another busy junior. Besides being in football, wrestling, and baseball, he's also in chorus, concert choir, and swing choir. He plans to go on to college and participate in a sport. He would like to major in business. Erik likes JHS because he feels, "Everyone from freshmen to seniors get along." In his spare time he likes to lift weights and go out with his friends. He also has a part time job.

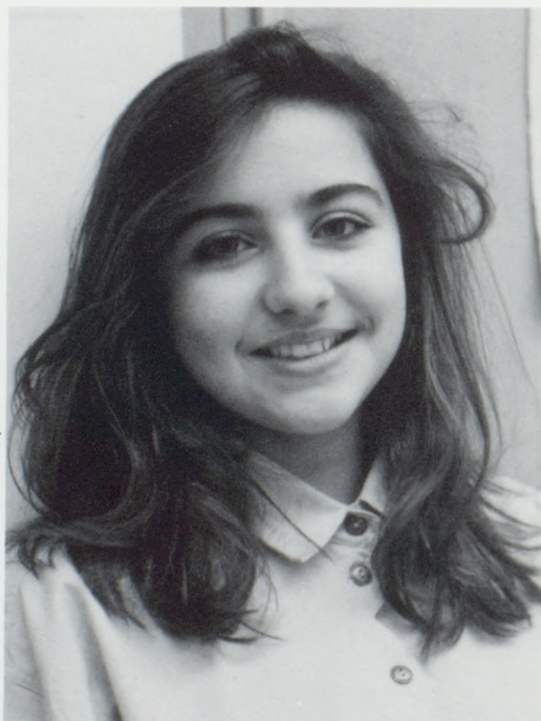

Maria del Pino Gonzalez is a foreign exchange student from Madrid, Spain. She was born in the Canary Islands. Pino is 17 yrs. old and was born on Jan. 20, 1972.

Her extracurricular activities include: TLC, SADD, Academic Team, and Volleyball. She hopes to play tennis, softball and maybe soccer.

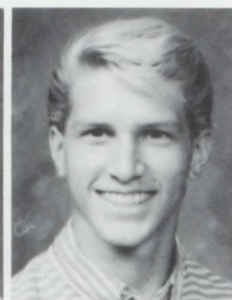

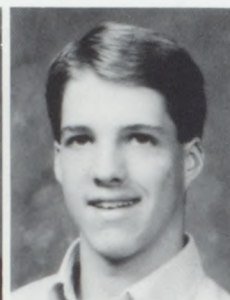

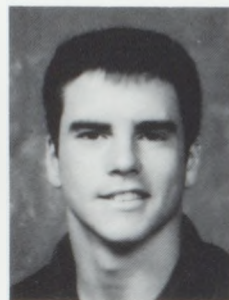

Pino loves to go out with friends, listen to her music from Spain, and go to new places.

This year Pino took many challenging classes. Her schedule included: American History, Spanish 3, Computer Applications, Experiences in Writing, Chemistry, Physics, Trig., and Photo Art.

When asked how Pino liked JHS she said, "One of the best things about JHS is the sporting events because there are many different sports and most of the students participate or provide support for the team. There are also many extra-curricular activities."

Pino asks, "Hablo espanol"

Dianna Leftridge is one sophomore who seems to have it all together. She is involved in a wide range of sports, including basketball, track, and cross country, and she would like to try softball. She has high expectations for next year, and says "Maybe Johnston could win state in track and basketball." She thinks Johnston teams overall, "Have a lot of ability, but we have to work harder."

Not only is Dianna an athlete, she's involved in other activities such as dancing and singing and music. She also enjoys roller skating and being with others.

Barrett Thompson is one of the sophomores that stand out in this class. Last year Barrett wrestled varsity in the 98 lbs. weight category. In doing that he qualified for the class 2A state meet at Vets. He finished his season with a 6th place at the meet. Barrett is also active in football, track, and baseball. According to Barrett, "Our class as a whole is a great class and has great potential for doing anything." He hopes to wrestle at the state meet for the next few years and place well there.

Sophomore Jesi Foley has had an active year. She started with a trip to Europe in the summer with Mr. Donahue. During the year Jesi was involved in Sound Advice, Concert Choir, Madrical Dinner, Des Moines Youth Chorus Grad., gymnastics, swimming, golf, and various activities in cheerleading. Jesi said that in J.H.S. she has encountered "a lot of cooperation and good points that need to be brought out even more."

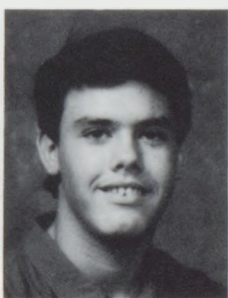

Franklyn Wayne Gilliam is currently active in basketball, baseball, football and track. He enjoys a full days work at Oakmoore, and playing volleyball every Sunday at his church. Athletically he has already reached many high goals like playing varsity basketball and baseball.

Another freshman interviewed was Tim Mitchum. Tim was involved in football, track and baseball.

According to Tim, high school was a little better than he expected it to be, "It helped that I had an older sister and brother who gave me good advice, Keep your mouth shut and have a good time!"

When asked about his feeling towards his freshman year, Tim said, "I like thinking it is getting closer and closer to not being a freshman."

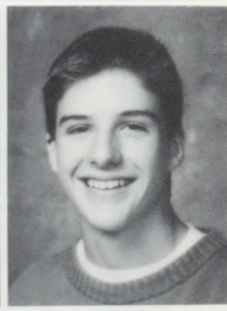

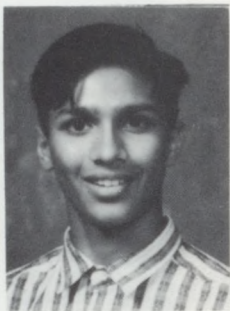

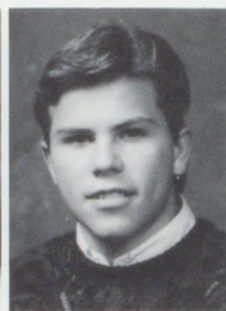

Top: Did Mrs. Van Farowe kick you out Again Matt Coleman? Bottom: Never trust a smiling freshman, especially Tim Mitchum.

Jennifer Krepps was involved in several school activities. Some of these included: band, chorus, cheerleading for J.V. football and she was also a manager for J.V. Basketball. Jennifer also volunteered the use of her house and yard for the building of the homecoming Freshman float. Outside of school, she was involved in a youth group for her church.

Jennifer's goals for the rest of high school are to keep her grades up, to be better organized, to overcome her shyness, and to meet new people. She would also like to become better in band.

Jennifer was quoted as saying "I think that our grade is friendly—anyway, we try to be friendly."

Sarah Brown and Jerusha Bauman? Bottom Center: Are you aware of what is going on Kylee Boyd and Ryan Bess.

Julianne Friestead is another freshmen here at Johnston. she is presently a JV football and basketball cheerleader and participates in Chorus, Sound Advice and is going to play golf this spring. Julianne is involved in activities outside the high school like her Church Youth Group and at Hyperion Junior Golfer program. She plans to go to University of Iowa and get a degree in Accounting. Right now however, Julianne wants to have fun. She plans on getting good grades but also having fun during her years at Johnston High School.
